

THE ST JOHN PAUL II NOTTINGHAM PARISHIONER FORUM

What is it about?

The Parishioner Forum (formerly known as the Parish Think Tank) is a small group of parishioners who were invited by the parish priest to consider ways in which we, as a parish, could give impetus to our Bishop's exhortation to 'Encounter Christ'.

We have so many great ministries in our parish that already provide an opportunity to do just that.

The main aim of the Forum is to consider ways to make it easier for members of our parish community to get involved in these ministries and, in doing so, develop their personal Faith and enjoy their encounters with God.

The group also has a role in assisting the parish priest to develop a parish environment that encourages vocations to the priesthood and the religious life and which reaches out to the wider local community and the sacramentally inactive.

The group is made up of a cross section of our parish community in terms of age, gender and Masses attended. It is NOT an elite, inner circle of people set apart from the congregation but simply a small number of people trying to draw together all the good that is already being done, identifying areas for development and considering ways of making it easier for people to become involved if they so wish.

With the above in mind we have developed a directory of the ministries we have in our parish - with contact points for those who feel they would like to get involved or who may themselves need help from the ministries.

Examples of the current ministries are as follows:-

- Altar Servers
- Eucharistic Ministers
- Children's Liturgy
- St Vincent de Paul Society (SVP)
- Friendship Club
- Folk Group
- Choir
- Prayer Groups
- Evangelium (RCIA)

- Faith in Action
- Bereavement
- Sacramental preparation
- Food Bank
- Cleaning
- Welcoming
- And lots more

We hopefully can act as a “signpost” if you want to help, or want help, but do not know who to contact.
